Week 15: Thursday 27 November 2025

Mr. Andy – Principal

Dear CES Community,

This week at Cambridge English School Mangaf was filled with achievement, collaboration, and celebration across all phases.

The week began with the recognition of pupils' effort and commitment through attendance certificates and the Pupil Recognition Awards, reinforcing the school's ethos of motivation and success.

Staff engaged in productive CPD sessions for EYFS, Primary and Secondary, providing valuable opportunities to share best practice and strengthen classroom delivery.

Pupils took part in the Qur'an Competition, which ran throughout the week, showcasing exceptional recitation skills and dedication.

Assemblies across each year group continued to reinforce core values, celebrating achievement and promoting respect, kindness, and personal responsibility. Student enrichment and clubs further enhanced the learning experience, while Year 7 pupils enjoyed an engaging and educational trip to Asmaa Mall.

Overall, it was a successful and inspiring week that reflected the school's ongoing commitment to academic excellence, personal development, and community spirit.

EYFS NEWS & PRIMARY NEWS
Ms. Gemeela – Head of EYFS & Primary

What a wonderful week! Year 5 pupils impressed us with their creative construction projects, showing fantastic teamwork and pride in their work.

Across Primary, pupils have been busy revising for upcoming exams. Revision packs have been issued, and pupils are reminded to bring them daily so teachers can support their preparation.

Next week, we are excited to celebrate Book Week! Pupils can explore and purchase books at our book fair, and the week will finish with a whole-school dress-up event where everyone can come as their favourite book character. I'm especially excited to see the Early Years and Primary costumes!

KG and Reception pupils will also visit the Scientific Centre, tying perfectly into their "Under the Sea" theme.

Have a wonderful weekend!

SECONDARY NEWS
Mr. Alfred – Head of Secondary

This week in Secondary has been both exciting and productive. Our Year 7 pupils enjoyed a memorable trip to the National Geographic Ultimate Explorer Center, where they explored Science, Nature, and Technology through immersive AR, VR, and 3D adventures, sparking curiosity and inspiring future learning. Assemblies across the week focused on preparing students for upcoming examinations, covering essential protocols such as exam venues, procedures, and best practices to ensure they are confident and ready.

We also celebrated the winner of the Year 9 Entrepreneur event, where students showcased impressive skills in marketing, client service, and adapting to enhance customer satisfaction, demonstrating creativity and strategic thinking.

In addition, our pupils represented CES with pride at the Quranic Recitation Competition organised by the Ministry of Higher Education, embodying dedication and excellence.

Overall, it has been a week of achievement, growth, and community spirit, reflecting our commitment to holistic education.
